ELLIOTT NORTH PHILA

In Memoriam

Elisha P. Wilbur

Treasurer of the Board of Trustees from July, eighteen hundred and sixty-five, to October, nineteen hundred and one, and a Trustee of the University from June, eighteen hundred and seventy-one, to the time of his death, June fourteenth, nineteen hundred and ten. A constant and steady friend of the student body. Donor in eighteen hundred and eighty-two of our Athletic Field, and thereby father of the development of modern athletics in the University, and ever, to the time of his death, a generous, helpful friend, and most valued counselor of the University.

To the service of the University he brought the ripe wisdom and good judgment of one who was recognized as a financial leader. Lehigh owes him a great debt of gratitude and love, and the student body pays this tribute to the memory of one who loved and served Lehigh, and cared for the welfare of Lehigh's sons.

FOREWORD.

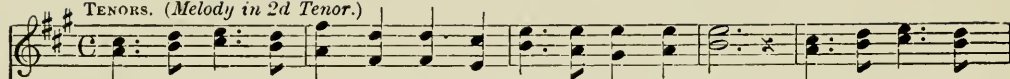

To record on the pages of history in a manner worthy of our Alma Mater her progress during the last college year, to put into these pages something of the spirit of Lehigh, to strengthen the bond of fellowship among Lehigh's sons and thereby strengthen the ties which bind us to Lehigh, to crystallize the pleasures of college life, to keep alive the precious memories and intimate friendships of our college days. This has been our trust. We present our attempt at its fulfillment.

President D. R. Lowry

IT is next to impossible to realize that four years have all but passed since the Class of Nineteen Hundred and Eleven entered Lehigh as Freshmen.

When we entered we looked forward to these years with anticipation which, in some cases, was not unmingled with dread. It then seemed to us as if those four years would never end, and the coveted goal of our college course loomed, very indefinitely for some of us, in the dim distance. From a retrospective viewpoint these last four years have flown, we know not where. It seems but a few short months since we entered, we admit rather timorously, to face the then considered invincible Sophomores.

Preceding historians of the class have very fittingly told how we gained overwhelming victories over the Sophomores in our first year, and as Sophomores in turn held the entering class in subjection throughout their first year. At the end of our Sophomore year we had, for the most part, passed off that stumbling block to all technical students—Calculus. Even those who had not done so coöperated with us in our plans for the cremation of Calculus. But all our work counted for naught, for the weather was so unsettled during the entire Commencement Week that it was impossible to carry out our carefully arranged program.

Somewhat diminished in numbers, we returned as upperclassmen to take up the work of our Junior year. The most important events of the year were the Junior Oratorical Contest and the Junior Promenade, both of which were up to their usual standard of excellence.

After a summer of strenuous work, those of us who had survived were back again to take up the privileges as well as responsibilities of Seniors. There have been no events of extraordinary interest during the present year, and we are calmly awaiting that time so long looked forward to—Commencement Week.

The record of the Class of Nineteen Hundred and Eleven is one of which we can justly be proud. In all college activities, in athletics as well as in all the social events, we have very creditably shown our ability during the past three years.

We all realize that we have learned infinitely more than was contained between the covers of our text-books. We have learned to know our classmates, we have had all the rough corners of our dispositions and characters worn off, and last but not least, there has been instilled in us that quality so far-reaching in its effects—true Lehigh spirit and love for our Alma Mater. We all realize that we shall leave here in June well fitted to take up our life's work; but no matter what success we attain, we shall never forget that our achievements have been to a very great extent due to no other factor than our beloved Alma Mater—dear old Lehigh.

“May we ever live to love her, live to praise her name;
Live to make our lives add luster to her glorious fame!”

LEHIGH

T. F. Johnson

JUNIOR

President W. J. Maguire.

SINCE the Class of 1912 entered the life of Lehigh many important and interesting things have happened to it; and in order that the world may understand these happenings it is necessary that a brief summary of them be written and preserved in the archives of the University. It is the purpose of this history to rescue the daring and laudable feats of the class from oblivion and give them their merited place in the annals of the University.

It was back in September of 1908 that the class was first heard of. On a certain dark night about midnight a potent band of youthful enthusiasts could have been seen gathering on the hillside overlooking the campus. At first it seemed but a disorderly mob; but quickly their spirit began to show itself and soon the Class of 1912 appeared as a single unit. The object of this first gathering was to show the ability of the class as a fighting machine. At the given signal the whole strength of the unit was thrown against the Sophomores, and then started the first famous rush of the class. It is well known how creditably the class acquitted itself that night, and in that first clash may be found the keynote of the spirit it has shown ever since. Later, on Founder's Day, the superiority of the class in athletics was plainly shown and its skill in rushing was again called into play to fight a way off the field of victory.

On returning to college in the Fall of 1909, there was more work to be done, as a large and powerful class had entered and had to be dealt with according to the time-honored custom. The old spirit was again called forth, and in the opening rush the strength of 1912 was found irresistible. From then until Founder's Day the class was busy disciplining the Freshmen, and in the Founder's Eve rush another signal victory was gained. The next day on the athletic field the class closed its underclass events, maintaining the enviable record of not having lost a single Founder's Day sport.

On our return to college this year we were numbered among that privileged set known as upperclassmen. Our first duty was to organize the Freshmen for the rushes and give them that advice which all entering classes need. After this entertainment was over, we were free to settle down to our newly found dignity. Some of the more venturesome spirits started to look around for some means of making our class unique in the University, and it was suggested that we adopt a class hat. This was a radical idea, but it found instant favor with the class and our class cap has resulted from this action.

And now as we draw near the end of the Junior year, we begin to look forward to graduation which will come in one short year, and we begin to realize, as we never did before, how much Lehigh means to us, and how many opportunities have been offered us in the past and are still being offered us. And as our Alma Mater has given us her best, may we, while in college and after graduation, do all in our power to increase her prestige and add to her fame.

SOPHOMORE

President J. L. Clark.

REALIZING the advantage of an early start, the class of 1913 began hostilities with a rush that boded ill to the Freshmen. On opening night they assembled at the Gymnasium and forming a column of fours, descended to the drive in front of Packer Hall. Ahead ranged the column of Freshmen. At the firing of the gun the classes met with tremendous impact, and for five minutes the scene of conflict was a vortex of surging and rushing men, all pushing madly as often in the wrong direction as in the right. At the second gun the forces drew off to collect themselves for the next onset, which followed after a brief interval.

At the beginning of the third rush, all hands realized that as the preceding two had been more or less indecisive, this one would tell the tale of victory or defeat. Nerved by the resolution to do or die, 1913 charged into the fray with a might that could not be overcome and the Freshmen fled pell-mell, pursued by the victorious Sophomores, who made captives right and left. These, numbering fifteen, were taken over to the Library steps, numbered, tagged and filed for reference later when the paste buckets should come into use. The rest of the night was spent in putting up posters in the Bethlehems.

On the next day, the formal opening exercises were held in the Chapel, before and after which the Freshmen were royally entertained by the Sophomores. The Freshmen were then marched by the Juniors down to Lehigh Field where they found their conquerors of the night before awaiting them. Many are the versions of the numbers on each side in this banner rush, but all agreed in giving 1914 a numerical advantage of from a quarter to one-half. Borne back by the force of numbers, 1913 lost the only rush of the year, but the speedy ejection of the Freshmen from the field was a partial compensation.

From this time until Founder's Day nothing enlivened the tedium but banner-stringing, an art at which 1913 showed themselves pastmasters.

On Founder's Day Eve, 1913 assembled in the shadow of the Chemical Laboratory and sallied forth to put up posters. After this had been successfully done the forces of the Freshmen were encountered at five o'clock on Fountain Hill, and after a vigorous fight, thirty-three Freshmen were tied up.

The next afternoon came the Founder's Day sports. Until the very last, the relay race seemed lost for 1913 but brilliant running at the finish turned defeat into victory. The baseball game was won by 1914 in extra innings, and every one looked forward to the football game to decide the day, but in vain, for neither side was able to score. However, 1913 rejoiced, for the Freshmen must win a majority of the sports to wear flannel shirts and corduroys.

The class of 1913 now lays down the tasks of properly subduing the incoming Freshmen, and hands this duty over to 1914 with the feeling that next year they will be fully able to carry the burden of this responsibility.

LEHIGH UNIVERSITY

FRESHMAN

President H. R. Shellenberger.

“MID a grove of spreading chest-nuts” on a starlight night, September 21, 1910, we met and were formally introduced to the classic walls of “dear old Lehigh,” and our friendly foes the Sophomores.

From far and near the men, who were to enter Lehigh as Freshmen the next day, were rounded up at about 11 P.M. in Sayre Park by the friendly Juniors.

There we stood in the coolness of the night, with “our hearts in our mouths” waiting for the stroke of twelve, when we should meet the Sophomores and try to force them down the embankment, from the carriage-way below Packer Hall.

On the stroke of twelve in the language of the melo-dramatist, we marched down the hill, six abreast, singing, “The Gang’s All Here” and, at the crack of the pistol, we met the Sophomores. In the three rushes, neither side was able to claim victory.

After the third rush we all ran back to a rendezvous, where the Juniors met and divided us into squads in order to see that the Sophomore posters would be well taken care of. When six o'clock came the next morning, there were few posters to be seen in the Bethlehems and not a single one on the Athletic field.

Probably the most interesting event of the night was the "scrap" in front of the dormitories when about thirty Sophomores and Freshmen engaged in a bout. It lasted for half an hour and when it was over both sides were much fatigued.

In the banner rush we scored a decisive victory. It was a great fight and when the five minutes were up, we had forced the Sophomores some distance back of their line and the "bunting" was ours. After the rush we made a speedy exit, although not as speedy as the Sophomores endeavored to make it.

After the opening of college there were few Freshmen to be seen on the streets after dark, because the Sophomores had decided that it was unhealthy before Founder's Day, for us to be out late at night. If any Freshman was caught, the Sophomores gave him a bitter pill to swallow and it was said to be a sure cure.

On the eve of Founder's Day the Freshmen were again corralled by the Juniors and the different poster squads outlined their routes. While almost every squad was captured and tied up by the Sophomores, a number of posters are still staring the Sophomores in the face, especially on Fountain Hill.

In the Founder's Day sports we had decidedly the better of the argument, even though the sports ended in a tie. We won the baseball game by a large score and though the football game ended in a 0-0 score, we had the ball in the Sophomores' territory the greater part of the game. We lost the track event by a close margin, being in the lead until the last lap.

Although we have not been able to do much in the furthering of Lehigh's interests, because of the short time we have been at Lehigh, you had better watch us grow and develop. We hope to help keep up the pace which other classes before us have made. May our class ever be an honor to its Alma Mater!

Tau Beta Pi

THERE exist in the college world three well-known societies, membership in which signifies college honor, in the manifestation of high scholarship. They are Phi Beta Kappa, Sigma Xi and Tau Beta Pi. The first of these finds its membership in the men pursuing literature and the arts. The second selects its men from those who have shown distinction in the sciences and who have performed some research work. The last, Tau Beta Pi, of which we write, enrolls the honor men in engineering courses.

Of the three Phi Beta Kappa is the oldest, having been founded in 1776, while the dates of founding of the other two were separated by only one year—Tau Beta Pi, 1885, and Sigma Xi, 1886. The existence of Tau Beta Pi is owed to Prof. Edward H. Williams, Jr., an alumnus of Yale and of Lehigh where he became Professor of Mining Engineering and Geology. The motives leading to and the circumstances attending the formation of this society are interesting and worthy of record in a book of this nature.

As valedictorian of the class of 1875 at Lehigh, Prof. Williams had been elected an honorary member of the Sigma (New York) chapter of Phi Beta Kappa, and was anxious for the establishment of a chapter of that society here. There were, however, two obstacles standing in the way, first, the fact that the council, in whose hands the granting of charters lay, met only once in six years, and, second, the strong objection in Phi Beta Kappa against the admission of technical men into its membership. Owing to the highly technical character of Lehigh's courses the likelihood of an establishment of a chapter here was very slight and even with a charter granted the membership would be confined to a very small number.

Prof. Williams was aware of the necessity for the recognition of a man's ability other than the diploma which he received, and further that the recognition should be given while the man was still at college, and not as he was just passing out through her portals. The attitude which some men had towards a diploma can best be shown by the following incident: As the valedictorian of one of the '80 classes came from the stage after graduation Prof. Williams congratulated him, to which he received the reply ".....'s got one too." The fellow in question had flunked every examination in his four years of college. There was no limit to re-examinations in those days and he had taken enough until he had passed.

These were the motives leading to the formation of the society. The details of organization are briefly given as follows: Prof. Williams' conception of the society was that its membership should be taken from those men whose grades showed them to be in the first quarter of the class. Their rating must be above 75% and they must have no conditions. In practice this was to work as follows: At the end of their Junior year the men standing in the first eighth of their class became eligible for election and at the beginning of the Senior year the first quarter of the class became eligible. The election of these men, however, was not to be on the basis of scholarship alone but in addition the men must possess high morals, qualities of good fellowship, and manifest a healthy interest and rational participation in college activities.

To start such a society so that election into it would be sought and so that its establishment would be firm and give promise of vigorous growth was a matter requiring much careful work. How this was accomplished is best told in Prof. Williams' own words, and we quote from a letter from him on the subject, giving the Editor of the EPITOME this information on request.

".....Now, too many cooks spoil the broth of society building; so I decided to take nobody into my confidence. I knew what I wanted and I went to work alone.

"I first drew up a constitution and provided for granting new chapters, for an executive council, and for alumni advisers to act as a balance wheel to keep things going in line, and I made it hard to amend this instrument. I then drew up By-laws for Lehigh.

"Next, there must be a body of alumni behind the affair before the first undergraduate was let in. I delivered the valedictory for '75 and so was eligible to the society. I took the old faculty records and calculated the standing of every man who graduated, during his four years; drew up a list of the men in the order of their stand. They must be in the first fourth of the class and also have a general average of 75. Having the eligible men of the past, I had Edwin G. Klose, of the Moravian Book Concern, buy a series of special fonts of type, which are now in the possession of the society, a lot of electrotypes of the society key, and some other matter and print a lot of diplomas.I signed them as secretary, to which office I elected myself. The answers I received from the boys were refreshing. One valedictorian said he would value it more than his diploma.

"Then I had my friend Newman, of John St., New York, file out a society key, to see how the thing looked. Then I was ready for the undergraduates. I went slowly, however, and it was May, 1885, before I told Irving A. Heikes, the best man in '85, to stop after recitation, one morning, and asked him if he would like to be the first undergraduate to join a society. He wanted to think it over, and finally said 'Yes,' so I initiated him. He took post-graduate work, I think, and in the fall he and Professor Meaker, who helped me initiate the classes for several years, and Duncan, '80, initiated the men from '86 and the Wilbur man from '87.

"For several years I was elected president of the society and directed the body till it began to have a good number of alumni and many representatives in the Faculty. It took like hot cakes and soon its elections were looked for.

"I wanted to have Tau Beta Pi in full blast before Phi Beta Kappa came, as it would not then be looked upon as an imitation by a lot of men who could not get into the latter. In deference to the general tradition I limited the membership in Phi Beta Kappa to students in the liberal courses, and I had the charter given to a council of a few graduate members, Mr. Kitchel, Albert G. Rau, myself and a few others.

"This is the way Tau Beta Pi came to Lehigh. It was the culmination of a lot of work covering four years. I could not give as much time to it as I wanted, owing to the growth of my department. Breckenridge was elected an honorary member. Heck became president and a member of the advisory board, and then it began to form chapters outside. While the founding is wholly my own unassisted work, the spread is due to others....."

In June, 1910, the society had a membership of 3680 divided among 24 flourishing chapters, located at institutions of acknowledged leadership in the instruction of engineering. The twenty-fifth anniversary was celebrated here at Lehigh last June and the attendance and enthusiasm in connection with the convention gave every evidence of the solidity and prestige of Tau Beta Pi. The Land of Hades

Tune—"Next to Your Mother Whom Do You Love?"

Down in the shady land,
 Crafty and cunning,
 With cloven hoofs and tails,
 Demons are running;
 Peevish and sore,
 Thirsty for gore,
 They wait for calculus.
 Imps keep the fires hot;
 Pots are a-boiling;
 Torture machines are got
 Ready for oiling;

For every flunk,
 One great big hunk
 Dragons will tear from him.

CHORUS:

Next to the hottest fire he'll sit
 And they will roast him till he is fit—
 Fit for the torture of the versed sine,
 With tears of brine,
 His eyes will shine.
 And he will yell with agony
 From now until infinity.
 That limit is too small, indeed,
 For that fiend Calculus.

H. K. P., '12

The Soph's Lament

Tune—"Trans-mag-nif-i-can-bam-u-ality."

When I first came to college,
 I confess I was quite green,
 The math thrown at me my first year
 Was the hardest ever seen.
 My Sophomore year I saw the book
 That made my hair turn gray,
 And after close relationship
 My lips would only say—

CHORUS.

C-a-l cal c-u- calcu l-u-s
 With might and main I've racked my brain
 For naught I must confess.
 While Thorny, Jack and also Sid
 Have nearly taken off my lid
 Because I can't get
 C-a-l cal c-u-l-u-s.
 A view of hell in future time
 I have no doubt will be
 The math department integrating
 On a boiling sea.
 They swim around a cycloid curve
 To find the origin;
 Then take a dozen circles and
 Find where they begin.

C. S. K., '10

The Thorny Path

Tune—"Rings on My Fingers."

With fiendish yells and shouts of glee
All Hades will resound
When his Satanic majesty
Finds out that Hellward bound
We've sent old Calculus in haste
To join the horn-ed throng.
We hope he'll hear our song
That he may stay there long
Enough to feel the wrong
That he tried to do to us.

Sure he'll be half-baked and parboiled
They'll roast him well.
The imps will tear his eyes out;
He surely will get hell
We know that he deserves it
For all he did to us
At last we're rid of Old King Calculus.

H. K. P., '12

The Victory of the Sophs

Tune—"Put on Your Old Gray Bonnet."

From the land of integration
And of differentiation
We have passed to better days;
From the rule of Squirt and Thorny
Dutchy, Sid, and Pop, and Jack, we Now come forth to sing our praise;
That we need not fear Pop Meaker
Who with E's and F's made weaker
All our chances to get free from Thorny's wrath.

For it's he that we left stranded,
And in Juniordom we've landed,
And we're free at last from Math.

CHORUS:

Put all your books on the fire
And make it leap higher
To proclaim to the heavens our delight
That all pain is over
And in fields of clover
We shall have sweet dreams to-night.

MUSICAL AND DRAMATIC

R. N. Williams, President

THE season of 1910 will always be looked upon, by those who took part in the play and by those alumni and undergraduates who had the good fortune to see it, as one of the best that our Dramatic Association has ever had.

This success was due to the very efficient coaching of C. L. Downing, of "Mask and Wig" fame; the able management of R. N. Williams and C. S. Kenney; and the hard work done by those in the show. Although no trips were taken, and there were only two performances at home, during Junior and Commencement Weeks, the season was a most successful one financially and otherwise. This year we look for a repetition of the good work.

The play was "King Popocatepillar, VII," an Aztec comic opera in two acts. It contained fifteen musical numbers, seven of which were written by members of the association. It was a light, humorous, catchy, enjoyable play giving ample opportunities to show the histrionic abilities of such stars as "Tommy" Bryant, as the "King;" "Tom" F. Hickey, as "Monte;" C. S. Kenny, as "Dorolan, the Princess;" and W. B. Davies, as "Hans," the German Scientist. The other parts were as creditably filled. The chorus of sixteen showed the best dancing and singing that has been seen in a Lehigh show for some years.

WHILE all the games played did not result in victories for Lehigh, the football season of 1910 was a successful one from many standpoints.

The squad began work under the new rules, which meant practically learning the game anew. Under the excellent instruction of our new coach, Mr. Reiter, in spite of the absence of a captain, the team gradually rounded into shape, although progress at first was necessarily slow. After the Swarthmore game, the team work and spirit rapidly improved. As a result, the pluck and courage displayed by the team against Lafayette was of such calibre as to win unanimous laudation.

We were unfortunate in losing several valuable men throughout the season, on account of college work and injuries, which no doubt weakened the team materially.

We are losing through graduation five of our line men, but with the backfield intact and promising material in the other classes, we should look forward to a very successful season for 1911.

THE 1910 baseball season was not as successful as it might have been, owing to the loss of two-thirds of the 1909 team by graduation, and the lack of efficient material to fill the vacant positions. A summary of the games played shows that Lehigh won three and lost eight. As a nucleus for the 1911 team, we have J. Fisher, Captain, Borden and Rose of the 'Varsity team, J. T. Martin, A. E. Olson, M. M. Shaw, A. E. Moore and G. C. Hill of the substitutes. With Ralph Caldwell as our new coach, a more successful season is anticipated.

THOUGH the season of 1910 in Lacrosse cannot be called a complete success, the showing made was exceptionally good under the circumstances. The team opened the season with a dash that promised a winning team, but the unfortunate absence of a competent trainer soon affected the physical condition of the men on the team. The regrettable absence of Captain Osbourne, owing to injuries, from the line-up in some of the games, no doubt, took some of the spirit out of the men.

Half of last year's line-up remains for the coming season; and much promising material is on hand, so that under Captain-Elect Dunn it is hoped to develop a championship team.

ONE of the brightest chapters of Lehigh's athletic history of the past year is undoubtedly the record of the 1910 Track Team. Considering the fact that the team had the advantage of a student coach only, the results of the season are very satisfactory. With diligent and consistent work the team succeeded in administering decisive defeats to Haverford and Rutgers, and tying the strong Swarthmore team. The meet conceded to be one of the most interesting held at Lehigh for some years was the one with Lafayette College in which Lehigh was defeated by a few points. With only a few entries Lehigh won seven points in the State Intercollegiate Meet held at Harrisburg, and our Relay Team won third place in the University of Pennsylvania Meet. We have lost only four men from the team by graduation, and with the proper coaching there is no reason why the coming season should not be a successful one.

ANOTHER link has been added to the chain of Lehigh's successful basketball seasons. Capt. Merkle's team made a very consistent showing throughout the season, and had it not been for the absence from most of the games, due to illness, of one of last year's stars, it is certain that we would have even a larger percentage of victories to our credit. Swarthmore, represented by one of the strongest teams in her history, defeated us twice, only by a small margin, in two exceptionally fine exhibitions of basketball. The defeat by Penna. State College was due, in a large measure, to the illness of two of the 'Varsity men at that time. The Freshman class contributed considerable promising material, and with the loss of only one man from the team by graduation, a strong nucleus for next year's team remains.

WITH the graduation of Beitzel, Johnson and Sturgis, the gymnasium team lost three point-winners, and, at the opening of the season, faced the problem of developing the new material in the lower classes to fill the vacant positions. The improvement in form and ability that has been shown by the old men, and the wealth of available raw material is very gratifying.

DURING the past year wrestling has been gradually gaining a foothold at Lehigh. Last year after a brief period of training, our team met the Navy and the Cornell teams and made a strong showing against them, although we were defeated in both cases by a score of 5-2. At a recent meeting of the Athletic Committee it was decided to recognize wrestling as a minor sport for a year, the continuance of this recognition to depend on the success of the sport during the present season. Meets are scheduled with Princeton, Cornell, Penn State and Lafayette. The efficient services of the professional coach that has been engaged, coupled with the consistent work of the squad, makes it probable that wrestling will soon win a place among Lehigh's minor sports.

Founder's Day Sports

October 13, 1910

TO the main body of Lehigh men the annual Founder's Day sports are of considerable interest, and this year was no exception, all three of the contests having been full of vigor and enthusiasm. The relay race looked like an easy victory for the Freshmen until the last lap when the Sophomores finished strong and won out by a few yards. In the baseball game the Freshmen, with their strong battery, had the Sophomores at their mercy and easily won the contest. The football teams were evenly matched, and although both sides fought vigorously neither goal line was crossed, and with the dying echoes of the final whistle disappeared the Freshmen's visions of the coveted flannels and corduroys.

Football Dinner

IT is probable that never before in the history of the institution has there been anything that has so unified the interest of the Trustees, Alumni, Faculty and undergraduate body in athletics at Lehigh as the dinner given on December 3rd at the University Commons by Dr. Drinker and the Trustees in honor of Coach Reiter and the Football Squad, to which the Alumni, Faculty, and undergraduate body were invited. Not only was the dinner an excellent means of tendering the coach and the football squad a fine tribute, but it also gave every element that makes up the university an opportunity for the expression of its attitude toward athletics at Lehigh.

The dinner being given essentially in the interests of athletics, the themes of the speakers were in keeping with the occasion. Dr. Drinker very efficiently acted as master of ceremonies for the evening, and those called upon for speeches were Mr. R. E. Laramy, '96, President of the Alumni Association; Mr. W. A. Wilbur, Chairman of the Executive Committee; Prof. W. L. Wilson, '88, Secretary of the Athletic Committee; Prof. J. L. Stewart, one of the Faculty representatives on the Athletic Committee; Prof. J. F. Klein, Dean of the Faculty; Coach Reiter; Mr. E. G. Grace, '99, past President of the Alumni Association; Mr. W. R. Butler, '70; Mr. D. R. Lowry, President of the Senior class; Ex-Captain A. G. Black and Captain-Elect C. R. Wylie of the football team.

The Dean of the Faculty, Prof. Klein, favored athletics in technical schools provided they were coupled with the maintenance of a high standard of scholastic work. He said: "As regards the members of the Faculty, I feel sure that they will continue their policy of consideration and coöperation that they have manifested in the past. I feel sure all students' interests are their interests and they sincerely desire Lehigh's success in athletics." Both Prof. Wilson and Prof. Stewart spoke in a similar vein concerning their attitude toward athletics. Mr. R. E. Laramy, '96, after speaking of the work the alumni are doing for Lehigh, made a strong plea for the continuance of the loyalty, enthusiasm and clean sportsmanship that is being manifested by the teams and the student body. He said: "We want the spirit and enthusiasm at Lehigh to be directed along the very best channels, so that we may always have true sportsmen and successful athletics."

Coach Reiter, who has made a careful analysis of the athletic situation at Lehigh, said in part: "The spirit which prompted this dinner I believe to be in recognition of the true sportsmanship and the genuine loyalty of the undergraduate body. Personally, I feel this occasion to be unique from the fact that it is not a tribute to a winning team so far as scores go, but it is to a winning team so far as spirit goes. It is to a team which developed those qualities which you and I are proud of and which will remain long after the scores of the present year have been forgotten. Men of Lehigh, you are doing a great deal to place sport on a more rational and sportsmanlike basis. I know of no college in the East which is living up to its obligations to the Intercollegiate Association in the same spirit as Lehigh. Lehigh is going to keep up her scholastic standard and maintain her position of sportsmanship, but if she desires a larger number of victories something must be done. It is conceivable that your alumni and your undergraduates can be brought to the view that interclass sport is the best thing. The question arises, can you afford this? In the second place, is it advisable to take a subordinate place in athletics? If you decide that the two former propositions are not possible, what is there left to do? Nothing except get together and make a united effort to better the situation."

Mr. E. G. Grace, '99, past President of the Alumni Association, Captain of the '98 and '99 baseball teams, and now General Manager of The Bethlehem Steel Company, answered very rationally the question "What's the matter with Lehigh's athletics?" He held that there has not been the necessary close coöperation among the Board of Trustees, Faculty, President, Alumni and students to bring about the desired success in this matter at Lehigh. The Faculty has not made the student body and alumni feel that they really have a consideration for athletics at Lehigh. The student body has not taken the opportunity to coöperate with the Faculty and Board of Trustees. After speaking on the value in the practical world of a competitive experience and training received in college, he said regarding athletic material: "We have not the competitive material at Lehigh. Desirable athletes come here, but they do not always remain long. I think it is the duty of the men in college to legitimately help keep such men in college. I believe there has started among the alumni body a movement that will help you get good men and keep them here. I know Dr. Drinker will do his share of the work, and the Trustees will do theirs."

Practically the entire student body and teaching force of the university were present at the dinner. Among the Trustees in attendance were: W. A. Wilbur and A. N. Cleaver, of South Bethlehem; Dr. H. R. Price, '70, of Brooklyn; Rembrandt Peal, '83, of New York City. Among the Alumni present were: E. G. Grace, '99, of Bethlehem; H. A. Porterfield, '83, of Pittsburg; R. S. Perry, '88, President of the Philadelphia Lehigh Club; F. S. Smith, '87, of New York City; R. M. Bird, '02, of South Bethlehem; S. T. Harleman, '01, of Bethlehem; H. J. Horn, '98, of Trenton, N. J.; C. A. Buck, '87, of South Bethlehem; E. L. Bevan, '87, of Scranton; H. R. Walters, '03, of Bethlehem; W. R. Butler, '70, of Mauch Chunk; R. A. Laramy, '96, of Phoenixville.

The student body deeply appreciates the attitude of the Trustees and Dr. Drinker in this matter and most of all values this opportunity given for the discussion of Lehigh's athletic situation. It is certain that Dr. Drinker's efforts could not have served a better purpose than to have brought every one together in this manner to clear away much concerning Lehigh's athletics which has been misunderstood in the past.

Why Did You Choose Lehigh?

A MANUFACTURER would give much to know how men come to hear of his wares and what induces them to buy. To a university it is no less important to know why its good men come to her. And, since her interest is theirs, a full and candid answer from the students may with reason be expected to such an inquiry as that which Dr. Drinker and Prof. Hughes recently made: "Why did you choose Lehigh?" The answers to this question cannot well be summarized until replies have been received to more detailed inquiries in the second circular, which was made possible only by the answers to the first. None the less from those first answers some conclusions may be drawn with considerable assurance.

Proximity to home or to friends attracted 30%, but was the chief motive with but 15%. A study of the courses offered here had weight with many, but seemed to count only about one-fourth as much as the reputation of the university, which attracted 70%, and was the chief inducement with six in every ten men. The comparatively low expenses seem to have influenced 15%, but only one-third of these would grant that this motive ranked first with them. The location of the university with respect to mines, manufacturing, etc., helped to bring one-fourth of our men, but with only 5% was this argument the one of greatest weight. An ardent band of two in every hundred sought "hard work" above all things; others counted this an incidental charm. The fact that Lehigh is just the right size appealed to one-fifth of all that came, and nearly five in every hundred placed this factor first.

From these answers we may judge that nearly half our students seem to come here through the influence of alumni. And the answers show that our present students may claim an influence almost half as great. Here let us greet the Lafayette school principal who advised his pupil that Lehigh is the best technical school in the country; and also the Philadelphia newspapers: for when four of these were asked to name the best "civil" course in the country, three hailed Lehigh, and only one dared whisper Penn. Surely we do not violate a confidence in mentioning the man who first heard of Lehigh when he saw its pennant suspended in the room of a young woman, who, for all further information concerning us, was obliged to refer him to the "World Almanac." No less fortunate was the western student, who, returning from travel to enter his home university, was advised to look in upon us, and went no farther. We assume that the youth whose "high personal regard for the faculty" brought him here still retains some of his illusions, and also he who mentions "the friendly feeling which I noticed between students on my visit. They all seem to know each other and speak to every one." But happiest is the man all of whose relatives are Lehigh "alumnae." The constant reference to our "alumnae" has excited some concern within the faculty, but the reference to Mass. Tech. as the first "circumstance" to lead a man to Lehigh can be appreciated thoroughly by all but one or two of that body.

The Lehigh Engineer

This poem was written by Mr. W. Griffith, '76, and was read by him at the recent dinner at Scranton, of the Lehigh Club of N. E. Pennsylvania

THE TRANSIT.

With apologies to Mr. Longfellow.

I stood by the transit at noon-day,
My stomach suggesting the hour,
And the cloud hanging low on the mountain
Presaged an approaching shower.

I could feel my ears a freezing,
Like the water that soaked my feet,
And I felt for the empty bottle,
In the pocket at my seat.

Through the tall gray poplars
And shivering oaks hard by,
The blast of the cutting March wind
Would whistle and moan and sigh.

My feet were cold and restless
And would improve most every chance
To practice waltz or polka
In circum-transit dance.

And far in the hazy distance
Of that cheerless day in March,
I watched to see my foresight
Wave forth like a flaming torch.

But whirling and eddying past me,
Rose the belated storm,
And my view of the distance vanished
As darkness at early morn.

And like those chilly snowflakes,
As they rushed among the trees,
A flood of thoughts came o'er me
While I stood prepared to freeze.

How often, oh, how often,
In the winters passing by,
I had stood by the same old transit,
When cold and tired and dry.

I thought of the olden days,
And many a weary sigh,
Of the picnic we had surveying
The campus at Old Lehigh.

And as the snow fell faster,
And I was warming up a bit,
I thought of the other fellows
Who were also being it.

Now, whenever I see a transit
On its slender, tri-legged stand,
Symbol of a great profession
In this progressive land.

I think of the several hundred
Of Lehigh's engineers,
Each bearing his portion of burden
Through our nation's advancing years;

Each having his share of trouble
As he dances round and round,
Swinging partners with his transit
O'er the cold and frozen ground.

And forever and forever,
As long as this nation lasts,
Adding his share to her greatness,
And breasting her stormy blasts,

Helping the whole world onward,
In future it will appear,
A mighty agent of progress
Is the Lehigh Engineer.

This is a proverb true and old,
By ancient seers and wise men told,
"The absent are forgotten."
But not for me does the maxim hold,
Or how account for the manifold
Absences that I've gotten.

Why Not ?

"May I take your charming daughter
To attend the theatre, pray?"
Said a youth who thought 'twas proper
To ask "pater" old and gray.

Said her sire, "Why yes, of course, —er—
Either night or matinee,
But I fear you hadn't better
Let the girl select the play."

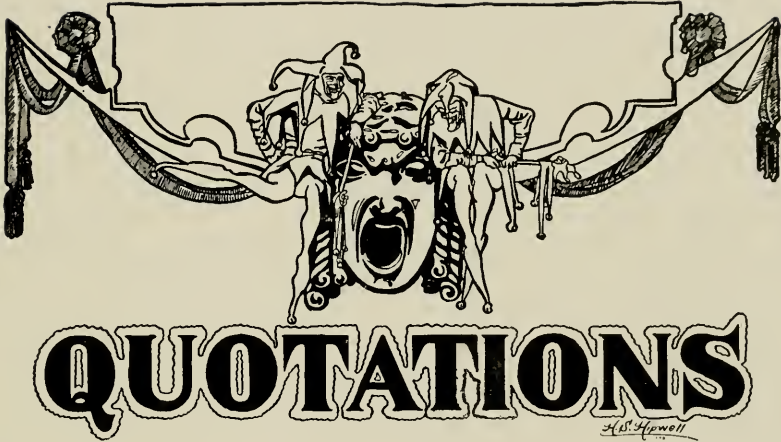

H. I.

Whose is the name well-known to fame?
Who makes us dig for hard-earned glory?
And tests our stuff when we would "bluff?"
The flunkers moan "Professor Thorny."

Just So

They played at cards together, he and she,
A game of hearts they played quite leisurely;
His lovesick soul soon tired of the game,
And the pretty maiden promptly felt the same.
The lover sighed. Her hand he tried to kiss;
"No, no!" she cried, "You do not understand."
"I never, never will let you do this."
"Dear heart, I can not let you kiss my hand."
"Ye Gods! 'Tis o'er!" the fellow sadly cried.
"No, no!" the maiden hastily replied.
She drew quite near. "You do not understand."
"I could not, would not let you kiss my hand."

 At all his jokes, for many a joke had he."

"To hold as 'twere, the mirror up to Nature."—Hamlet.

HARRIS, '12 (in Allentown station)—"What time is it anyway?"

FRIEND—"Half past four."

HARRIS, '12 (looking at weighing machine)—"Why, this thing says six o'clock."

BAIRD, '12—"Say Wright, what does that "E" after your name on the Petrology bulletin board mean."

WRIGHT, '12—"Oh, that stands for Earle."

MR. CHARLES—"I hope if that EPITOME Board does try to gag me, they won't get off that old one about my being always taken for a Freshman."

PROF. RICHARDS—"The two best books on Metallurgy are these three."

PARKER, '12 (picking up the Vassar annual)—"I know several fellows who go to Vassar."

PROF. LAMBERT—"How can you find the center of mass of this chair?"

SHEPPARD, '13—"From the equation of the chair."

FRESHMAN (in Chapel, frantically clutching Wittgenstein, '11, from behind as he rises to leave)—“Say, sit down. Don't you know the Freshmen don't leave until the Seniors have gone?”

FRESHMAN—“Is the Lacrosse Association one of the literary associations at Lehigh?”

DYNAN, '13—“Must we ink this tracing in lead pencil first?”

GOOD, '11—“Say Craver, what car did you come over on last night?”

CRAVER, '11—“The last one.”

GOOD, '11—“I thought the last car only ran Saturday nights.”

PROFESSOR S—“Mr. Warlick, please change the tone of your voice, it makes me think I have a young lady in the class.”

PROFESSOR M—(awaiting an opportunity to speak to A. T. Schultz, '12)—“Mr. Schultz, are you engaged?”

SCHULTZ (blushing and much embarrassed)—“Oh-ah-yes-no-ah. Do you mean to ask if you can speak to me a moment? Oh, I'm not engaged.”

PROF. FRANKLIN (to waiting Freshman)—“Very sorry, but by faculty ruling you are dropped from college. Just a minute please—here's fifty cents; would you mind going up to Drown Hall and getting us some cigars?”

JUNIOR—“The best example of class spirit that I have ever seen is shown by those few Sophomores who will persist in wearing those detestable class hats.”

HERR, '12—“I know I'm not liked by all the boys, but then I have an awfully high reputation with the faculty.”

FRESHMAN—“Are his girls with him?”

DR. WOODS—“With what case do you express definite time?”

BRILLIANT SCHOLAR—“Subjunctive 1914.”

MR. FRY (in Sophomore Physics)—“What does the intensity of the field of a dynamo depend upon?”

WILSON, '12—“The smallness of the width of the wire.”

“DUTCHY”—“What's in a name? Limburger called by any other name would be odoriferated just the same.”

DR. HALL—“What kind of a tree, gentlemen?”

BONINE, '12—“A dogwood.”

DR. HALL—“How do you recognize it?”

BONINE, '12—“By its bark.”

HARRISON, '13 (at the Commons)—“Pass the mufflers, please.”

DR. WOODS—“Where was Schiller born?”

GERMAN “SHARK”—“In Goethe.”

WHEATON, '12 (in Ore Dressing)—“How much are we supposed to get out of this lesson to-day?”

PROF. DANIELS—“You ask a question that would stagger a wise man.”

BACON, '12 (after failing to get a precipitate from a solution)—“Dr. Ullmann, don't you think this opens up a great field of investigation?”

PROF. RICHARDS (lecturing)—“A producer producing producer gas produces CO₂, etc.”

SHURTS, '12 (in Construction)—“Are those temples on the east side of the river going up or coming down?”

J. D. KRAUSE, '14 (in Laboratory)—(A very perplexing situation having suddenly dawned upon him, where the experiment required the use of a silver ten cent piece, waved for Dr. Babasinian and with an unhesitating voice inquired:) “Is it all right to use two nickels in this experiment?”

INSTRUCTOR (in English)—“Can you give me an example of personification using the word ‘ship?’ ”

LINDERMAN, '13—“You might call the ship a ‘she.’ ”

VOICE IN REAR—“Hold the ship, boys.”

D. B. WOODS, '12 (at the Commons)—“Hey there, seconds on beef, young feller.”

PROF. (?) ASHBAUGH—“Don't you know, Mr. Pierle, this world wasn't made right.”

MR. WHERRY—“Mr. Blaustein, don't bite me when you talk to me.”

BLAUSTEIN, '14—“I won't bite, it's against my religion.”

PROF. DE SCHWEINITZ (a tacit assumption in Senior Machine Design)—“I can do no more than lead you to the trough, but if you won't drink—”

CHORUS OF M. E'S—“Lead us to it.”

LINCOLN, '11 (with an oratorical delivery, nightly on the telephone)—“I'm sorry to bother you, but can you give me the lesson in Sanitary for to-morrow?—Very much obliged to you. Thanks very much. Sorry to bother you, old chappie. So long.”

MR. PIERLE (in reproving the Freshmen, intending to say “zeal and vigor”)—“You should put more veal and zigor in your work.”

IF YOU ARE A CIVIL ENGINEER

you will find the ENGINEERING RECORD of vital interest and real value in your work.

Its articles describe engineering works which exemplify the best practice in design and construction.

They furnish a store of valuable information on the actual conditions which you will meet in the practice of your profession.

There is another reason why it will pay you to subscribe now. The half yearly volumes of the RECORD contain an immense amount of technical and practical information which you will need some day. You cannot begin too soon to accumulate your own file of the paper.

The ENGINEERING RECORD is published weekly and contains during the year over 2000 pages of valuable reading matter.

The regular subscription price is $3.00 a year, but special rates are quoted to students on yearly orders and on trial subscriptions.

Moravian Seminary and College for Women

Preparatory and Collegiate

FOUNDED 1742

The oldest school of its kind in America, with a century and three-quarters of history and experience, yet furnished with all modern equipments, and pursuing the latest improved methods.

Our course of study, which is both preparatory and collegiate, is planned to give a complete and solid education and make our graduates broadly cultured and truly refined women, fit to meet all the duties and demands of the best modern society and a useful active life.

Our thorough scholastic instruction is only half our work. We give equal care and attention to the training of the characters of our pupils, the formation of right habits of thought, feeling and conduct, and the development of all those qualities, virtues and graces, that enter into a self-respecting, strong and true Christian womanhood.

For full information as to the management, course of study, cost, etc., send for descriptive circular to

Weston Alternating Current Portable and Switchboard

Ammeters & Voltmeters

Are absolutely dead beat. Extremely sensitive. Practically free from temperature error. Their indications are practically independent of frequency and also of wave form.

Weston Eclipse Direct Current Switchboard

Ammeters & Voltmeters

(Soft Iron or Electro-Magnetic Type) are remarkably accurate. low-priced instruments. Admirably adapted for general use in small plants.

Correspondence regarding these and our standard Laboratory, Portable and Switchboard Instruments is solicited by

Jenkins Bros. Valves

The important feature about all Jenkins Bros. valves is their reliability when in service.

They are well proportioned, and have full openings. The metal is of the best grade, and so distributed that each part secures its correct proportion, thereby insuring the greatest possible strength.

They look well, they are well constructed, and when in service they hold tight.

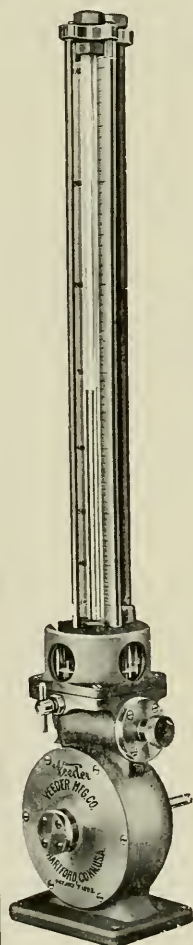

All genuine bear trade-mark as shown in the cuts, and are absolutely guaranteed. Catalog mailed on request
